THE COURTROOM DEPUTY: Case No. 25-CV-20757-Becerra, Doe
vs. Bonnell.

Counsel, please state your appearances for the record, starting with the plaintiffs that are present in the courtroom, defendant present in the courtroom, and then the parties on Zoom.

MS. SCHLUMP: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Joan Peters
Schlump on behalf of the plaintiff.

MR. GARCIA PEREZ: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Carlos
Garcia Perez on behalf of the plaintiff.

MR. RASKOPF: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Robert Raskopf from Bilzin Sumberg for the defendant.

MR. BRETTLER: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Andrew Brettler. Thank you for allowing me to appear remotely. Also for the defendant.

MS. PATINO: Patricia Patino from Bilzin Sumberg on behalf of the defendant.

THE COURT: Are you from the Miami office?

MS. PATINO: I am. I'm just not in Miami at this moment.

THE COURT: I don't like Zoom hearings. Everybody can be seated. I only allow counsel that are out of town. I just don't want to give anybody a misimpression about when I allow Zoom hearings. You can be seated, counsel.

MR. RASKOPF: Thank you, Your Honor.

THE COURT: So this case has been pending for a number of 1 months.

2 You looked at me a little cockeyed, ma'am. Didn't you 3 file it a couple months ago?

4 MS. SCHLUMP: February 21st, I believe.

5 THE COURT: Yes.

6 MS. SCHLUMP: Yes, correct.

7 THE COURT: It's April. So it's been filed. The parties 8 have already met for the joint status report; that was already 9 filed. I've got a scheduling order. The defendants have 10 answered.

11 And now last night I get a TRO based on facts that don't 12 appear to be any different from the complaint; so I want to hear 13 just very briefly as to why I should entertain the TRO as opposed 14 to just setting it down for a preliminary injunction.

15 MS. SCHLUMP: Well, Your Honor, I do apologize for the 16 delay in getting that motion out. There are a number of reasons 17 why that happened. One -- and I hate to go into personal things, 18 but -- Mr. Garcia was dealing with a cancer issue and going back 19 and forth to Texas.

20 I had pneumonia, and I was out straight for more than two 21 weeks; so we were really set back. There's just two of us working 22 on this case, and so that significantly delayed us. But there's 23 also other reasons, which is that we were trying to gather 24 affidavits from witnesses to bolster our evidence for the TRO and 25 get, you know, witnesses lined up for it.

04:40PM 1 Unfortunately, what we have encountered we have a number 04:40PM 2 of women that have come forward to us but have then backed out 04:40PM 3 because they are afraid of retaliation, and that's what they've 04:40PM 4 told us, and so we were not able to get these affidavits. We went 04:40PM 5 with what we have now, which basically we went from 15 potential 04:40PM 6 witnesses providing evidence, down to the one witness in addition 04:40PM 7 to the plaintiff.

04:40PM 8 THE COURT: That doesn't have anything to do with 04:40PM 9 anything. This is not a class action. You filed on behalf of one 04:40PM 10 woman. The TRO requests that he remove the video of the one 04:40PM 11 woman, and then there is a request with respect to whether or not 04:40PM 12 he is doing anything to destroy evidence in this case. I don't 04:40PM 13 know that that's a TRO. I think that's more akin -- you can file 04:40PM 14 a motion with respect to that. None of this sounds in TRO to me.

04:41PM 15 Obviously, the medical issue, I hope you're doing better.

04:41PM 16 MS. SCHLUMP: Thank you.

04:41PM 17 THE COURT: I hope it's not, obviously, more than a short 04:41PM 18 delay on a case.

04:41PM 19 But I don't see the emergency nature of the TRO. This 04:41PM 20 seems to me at best a preliminary injunction. There is nothing 04:41PM 21 that's happening today that wasn't happening when you filed the 04:41PM 22 suit or even a month before, right? In fact, if anything, like 04:41PM 23 the dates seem to line up sometime at the end of the year, right?

04:41PM 24 I'm in April. I don't see why the request for a TRO is 04:41PM 25 not stale.

04:41PM 1 MS. SCHLUMP: I understand your concerns, Your Honor, and 04:41PM 2 that is why we didn't file it as an emergency TRO.

04:41PM 3 I agree that most of the damage has already been done.
04:41PM 4 But the issue is that we keep receiving evidence of destruction of 04:41PM 5 evidence. We are trying to compile enough evidence to file a 04:42PM 6 motion for spoliation because we are very concerned with the fact 04:42PM 7 that all of this evidence is disappearing, so we are hoping to 04:42PM 8 file that very shortly. We're waiting for a specific piece of 04:42PM 9 evidence that we wanted to bring before the Court.

04:42PM 10 So, yes, I agree with you this is not an urgent matter 04:42PM 11 for having a TRO immediately, but it is ongoing harm that we would 04:42PM 12 like to stop.

04:42PM 13 THE COURT: That's why a preliminary injunction I think 04:42PM 14 is more appropriate. All a TRO is going to get you is ten days 04:42PM 15 before we get to the PI. I don't see the urgent nature.

04:42PM 16 I will tell you that even from my own scheduling 04:42PM 17 purposes, as you might have heard, some of you were here for the 04:42PM 18 other hearing, I am out of the district Monday or Tuesday. I am 04:42PM 19 here Wednesday, but I start a criminal trial on Thursday that's 04:43PM 20 likely to go a week.

04:43PM 21 And so my intention was to deny your request for a 04:43PM 22 temporary restraining order, but set a preliminary injunction 04:43PM 23 hearing and refer that though to the magistrate judge who has 04:43PM 24 got -- you know, he doesn't have my trial schedule, so he can hear 04:43PM 25 the preliminary injunction. He will issue a report and 04:43PM 1 recommendation on the preliminary injunction, which then I would 04:43PM 2 hear any objection and I will rule on it as soon as possible.

04:43PM 3 But it seems to me that the harm that you're sounding, as 04:43PM 4 best I can tell, I might be wrong, but to the extent that we're 04:43PM 5 really talking about the spoliation issue, that seems to me more a 04:43PM 6 spoliation than a PI; but I don't want to get too ahead of myself.
04:43PM 7 We can handle that as a PI; and it might not even be a PI, it 04:43PM 8 might be just an issue on spoliation.

04:43PM 9 And I will tell you that even as you've pled it so far, 04:43PM 10 we'll see what the defense says, but if I got sued for 04:44PM 11 distributing the materials about a woman and I may have done that 04:44PM 12 with other women, then I might say to myself "Maybe I shouldn't do 04:44PM 13 that any more. Let me delete that. Let me take that back. Let 04:44PM 14 me not do these things I'm being alleged that I'm doing because 04:44PM 15 maybe these are bad things I shouldn't be doing." That may be one 04:44PM 16 of the things that's going on. That's not spoliation. I don't 04:44PM 17 know.

04:44PM 18 Some of the stuff that's in this motion, I'm not finding 04:44PM 19 on its face what the connection is to this case. I assume you 04:44PM 20 will make that argument to Judge Torres and connect it up how it's 04:44PM 21 connected to this case because some of that I don't know is a 04:44PM 22 spoliation issue even, right; at least how you've pled it so far 04:44PM 23 or how you've argued it so far.

04:44PM 24 So I called you in for the status because I didn't know 04:44PM 25 if there was something else that was happening with respect to the

04:44PM 1 timing for the TRO. I am assuming that you've also been talking 04:45PM 2 to counsel because you were together for the joint scheduling 04:45PM 3 report.

04:45PM 4 MS. SCHLUMP: Correct.

04:45PM 5 MR. BRETTLER: Sorry, Your Honor. We were shocked to 04:45PM 6 hear about this.

04:45PM 7 THE COURT: Sir, I'm talking to counsel for plaintiff. I 04:45PM 8 will get to you.

04:45PM 9 So you were definitely together for the joint scheduling
04:45PM 10 report.

04:45PM 11 MS. SCHLUMP: Yes, and no we did not discuss a motion for 04:45PM 12 TRO during the joint scheduling; we just discussed scheduling.

04:45PM 13 I would say, Your Honor, that I understand what you're 04:45PM 14 saying about the spoliation. But one of the reasons that we were 04:45PM 15 moving for the TRO is because I do think that the defendant is 04:45PM 16 destroying evidence, and so we were looking for an order asking 04:45PM 17 him to respect the preservation of evidence rules. And we had 04:45PM 18 sent him a letter before the complaint was even filed asking him 04:45PM 19 to preserve evidence. I mean, he has even deleted messages 04:46PM 20 between him and the plaintiff. That to me is destruction of 04:46PM 21 evidence that's relevant to this case.

04:46PM 22 THE COURT: We're getting way ahead of ourselves, right?

04:46PM 23 MS. SCHLUMP: Well, so that was one of the reliefs that 04:46PM 24 we were seeking in the motion, was just that he be ordered to 04:46PM 25 preserve and not delete any further evidence.

04:46PM 1 THE COURT: So I don't even think that's subject to the 04:46PM 2 TR0, and I'll tell you why.

04:46PM 3 You have both a preservation letter, plus a complaint, 04:46PM 4 plus a scheduling order. If the defendant after having notice of 04:46PM 5 the suit is destroying evidence -- I mean he's also got lawyers 04:46PM 6 who I am sure are advising him of what he can and can't do -- if I 04:46PM 7 were to find or if Judge Torres finds as part of a discovery issue 04:46PM 8 that he has destroyed evidence, well there's all sorts of remedies 04:47PM 9 that the Court can take to do that.

04:47PM 10 The order that you're seeking requires him to do nothing 04:47PM 11 more than he's already required to do because he can't destroy 04:47PM 12 evidence now, right? You can't destroy evidence after you're on 04:47PM 13 notice of the suit and the preservation letter has been sent; so 04:47PM 14 if he is in fact destroying evidence, he can't do that. If he 04:47PM 15 doesn't think it's destroying evidence for some reason, well that 04:47PM 16 will all play out either in a motion for spoliation or maybe in 04:47PM 17 the preliminary injunction.

04:47PM 18 But to issue a temporary restraining order now on some 04:47PM 19 sort of urgent basis, one, I think that it's stale because even 04:47PM 20 that has been going on for some time. That's not something that 04:47PM 21 you found out right now and I need to stop it right now.

04:47PM 22 MS. SCHLUMP: Right.

04:47PM 23 THE COURT: So I am going to deny your motion for a TR0.
04:47PM 24 I know I just set it for status, but I don't want to have to set 04:47PM 25 the TR0 for Wednesday to tell you what I'm telling you now because 04:48PM 1 I don't think -- I've read your papers, and I think based on your 04:48PM 2 papers the TRO is stale.

04:48PM 3 But unless I hear an objection from you -- not that your 04:48PM 4 objection would necessarily change my mind, but I'm going to let 04:48PM 5 you put the objection on the record if you have one, but I will 04:48PM 6 deny your TRO and set you to go to Judge Torres to have him set 04:48PM 7 the hearing for the preliminary injunction.

04:48PM 8 MS. SCHLUMP: We have no objection, Your Honor.

04:48PM 9 THE COURT: All right. Now, sir, I can hear from you.

04:48PM 10 MR. BRETTLER: I'm sorry, Your Honor. With the Court's 04:48PM 11 ruling right now, I don't think that there is any reason for us to 04:48PM 12 argue any further.

04:48PM 13 I will point out no one is destroying evidence. I will 04:48PM 14 further point out that we had no meet and confer efforts with 04:48PM 15 plaintiff's counsel about this. We were stunned to see not only 04:48PM 16 one but two motions it looked like for a TRO filed yesterday. And 04:48PM 17 I understand that counsel did say that they didn't file it as an 04:48PM 18 emergency TRO, but by its very nature TROs are an emergency -- 04:49PM 19 seeking emergency relief.

04:49PM 20 We agree with the Court's assessment and have no
04:49PM 21 objection to having this referred to the magistrate for the PI 04:49PM 22 hearing.

04:49PM 23 THE COURT: So there were two TROs, but I thought the 04:49PM 24 second one essentially amended the first. There wasn't a 04:49PM 25 different recovery; is that correct?

04:49PM 1 MS. SCHLUMP: Our administrative assistant did the 04:49PM 2 filings, and I think what happened was she neglected to include 04:49PM 3 Exhibit 3, and so she refiled. So that was a -- it's the exact 04:49PM 4 same thing. There's not two motions.

04:49PM 5 THE COURT: So I'm going to deny 20 because the motion 04:49PM 6 was the same; it was that exhibit that was different. I will deny 04:49PM 7 20 because 20 was duplicative as, in essence, of 21.

04:49PM 8 MS. SCHLUMP: Yes.

04:49PM 9 THE COURT: And then 21 I am going to deny the request 04:49PM 10 for the TRO and refer the preliminary injunction to Judge Torres, 04:49PM 11 and that's ECF 21.

04:49PM 12 And then I will leave it to Judge Torres to decide what 04:49PM 13 briefing schedule, if any, he wants to give the defense. He might 04:50PM 14 just set it for hearing or he might give you an opportunity to 04:50PM 15 brief it. I don't know what Judge Torres will do, but I will give 04:50PM 16 it to him to do on the preliminary injunction.

04:50PM 17 Let me just say, you know, I don't think that there is -- 04:50PM 18 I have to check the local rule on this because I can't cite it 04:50PM 19 from memory, although I probably should be able to -- I don't 04:50PM 20 think there is an obligation necessarily for them to confer on the 04:50PM 21 TRO. That being said --

04:50PM 22 And I think that's one of the exceptions to conferral, 04:50PM 23 but I think you're going to agree with me on that, counsel.

04:50PM 24 MS. SCHLUMP: Yes, I do. I definitely confirmed that 04:50PM 25 before I filed.

04:50PM 1 THE COURT: I don't think there is a requirement. That 04:50PM 2 being said, this does strike me as something that you could talk 04:50PM 3 about and say because even from the evidence that plaintiff has 04:50PM 4 shown, it seems like the defendant, at least with these messages 04:50PM 5 to the plaintiff, is suggesting that he would withdraw the video 04:50PM 6 or try to do things with the video to take it out of the public 04:50PM 7 space. That seems like something you might be able to work out; 04:51PM 8 maybe not. I don't know.

04:51PM 9 And if there is an issue of the destruction of evidence, 04:51PM 10 that's something that on a motion for spoliation you will have to 04:51PM 11 confer. It seems to me that you should be conferring about this, 04:51PM 12 that it makes most sense, and especially if you want a resolution 04:51PM 13 that's quicker, is to talk about it because you will have to set 04:51PM 14 it for PI, there will be a hearing, there will have to be a 04:51PM 15 written report and recommendation, it will have to come to me. I 04:51PM 16 think you should pick up the phone and talk.

04:51PM 17 I mean it is a little odd, ma'am, I will just say. If 04:51PM 18 you're sitting talking about the schedule and everything, clearly 04:51PM 19 you were already working on the TRO, probably the defendant didn't 04:51PM 20 love to get that TRO filed, like, the day after you were 04:51PM 21 conferring for an hour on the schedule. It doesn't mean you 04:51PM 22 couldn't do it; it's just that it's not great.

04:51PM 23 MS. SCHLUMP: I didn't -- I hear what you're saying, Your 04:51PM 24 Honor.

04:51PM 25 THE COURT: It's not a great way to start a case.

04:52PM 1 MS. SCHLUMP: We have had discussions with counsel prior 04:52PM 2 to this, and they were not very productive, so I did not think 04:52PM 3 that discussing this matter with them -- I mean Mr. Brettler just 04:52PM 4 said his client is not destroying evidence. We know the client is 04:52PM 5 destroying evidence. We've seen it. So it's just not --

04:52PM 6 THE COURT: Hold on. Hold on. When I speak, you have to 04:52PM 7 stop.

04:52PM 8 MS. SCHLUMP: Sorry. Go ahead. Yes. Sorry.

04:52PM 9 THE COURT: One, not just because I'm the judge; but two, 04:52PM 10 because my court reporter only writes down what one person says, 04:52PM 11 and I promise it's always what I'm saying if there are two people 04:52PM 12 talking.

04:52PM 13 My point to you is you can tell them "Your client is 04:52PM 14 destroying evidence." Of course they're going to tell you that 04:52PM 15 he's not; I would hope they're going to say that. Now, if you 04:52PM 16 show them evidence of it, they're probably not going to say "Yeah, 04:52PM 17 he is destroying evidence," but they might talk to their client 04:52PM 18 and come to some agreement with you about what he can and can't 04:52PM 19 do.

04:52PM 20 So, you know, productivity isn't them acquiescing to your 04:53PM 21 allegation, but you might be able to get some resolution of what 04:53PM 22 he can and can't do in this space in terms of what he can do with 04:53PM 23 his emails and what he can do with his chats. I mean there are so 04:53PM 24 many platforms and things now, I don't even try to keep up with 04:53PM 25 them. Even though I have a teenager and I think I do keep up with 04:53PM 1 them, I don't because there is something new that comes out every 04:53PM 2 day. So whatever platforms he is chatting with people or talking 04:53PM 3 to people on, you know, these things I know are moving targets, 04:53PM 4 but it's always productive to talk.

04:53PM 5 And let me just say one more thing because it's day -- 04:53PM 6 not day one because you filed in February, but we're really early 04:53PM 7 on in this litigation that will be before me for God knows how 04:53PM 8 long. You need to confer.

04:53PM 9 MS. SCHLUMP: Understood.

04:53PM 10 THE COURT: And you need to confer a lot. I think good 04:53PM 11 lawyers working in good faith can work a lot of things out; and 04:53PM 12 when you can't, that's my job and I'm happy to hear disputes. I 04:54PM 13 obviously love it; otherwise I wouldn't want this job. But the 04:54PM 14 dispute is better and it's easier for the Court and it's fairer 04:54PM 15 for the parties if what's before the Court has really been 04:54PM 16 crystalized by conferral.

04:54PM 17 So I hear you that these lawyers aren't going to agree 04:54PM 18 with you probably on much when it comes to the substance, but it 04:54PM 19 does help to crystalize the issues if you at least talk to each 04:54PM 20 other. And it's very difficult when they've been sitting with you 04:54PM 21 for an hour talking about the schedule, you never mentioned the 04:54PM 22 TRO and it gets filed, it doesn't help in terms of the lawyers 04:54PM 23 trusting each other to at least bring issues in good faith.

04:54PM 24 It's a complex case. I understand, you know, it's a 04:54PM 25 sensitive matter for your client, I understand that. But if we 04:54PM 1 want to go forward in a way that's productive going forward, I'm 04:54PM 2 going to encourage you as best you can to talk to the lawyers.

04:55PM 3 Keep talking to the defense lawyers. And I'm not telling you to 04:55PM 4 agree with them, I'm just telling you that to work in good faith 04:55PM 5 to try to bring things to the Court when they have been 04:55PM 6 crystalized and when they have been vetted by both sides. I think 04:55PM 7 that only helps the Court and I think it only helps the parties.

04:55PM 8 So as I said, for purposes of my ruling, I find that the 04:55PM 9 request for a TRO is stale. There is no urgent issue before the 04:55PM 10 Court. It can be handled at the preliminary injunction.

04:55PM 11 Because of my court schedule and my trial schedule, it 04:55PM 12 will be referred to the magistrate judge. I would expect that by 04:55PM 13 Monday, you know, his chambers will reach out to you by order or 04:55PM 14 by phone or something or Tuesday maybe to figure out what those 04:55PM 15 dates are and what that schedule is.

04:55PM 16 All right. Anything else on behalf of the plaintiff?

04:55PM 17 MS. SCHLUMP: No, Your Honor.

04:55PM 18 THE COURT: On behalf of the defendant?

04:55PM 19 MR. BRETTLER: The only thing, Your Honor, is I will 04:55PM 20 absolutely appear in person at future hearings. The only reason I 04:55PM 21 couldn't is because we only had 18 hours' notice of this one; 04:55PM 22 otherwise, I would have been on an airplane, and appreciate the 04:56PM 23 Court's accommodation.

04:56PM 24 THE COURT: Look, I missed it because I saw Bilzin and I 04:56PM 25 missed that there was an L.A. lawyer on it. And I just wanted to 1 have it today because I'm out of the district Monday and Tuesday.

2 I didn't want to on a TRO wait till Wednesday, and so we just 3 jumped on it to set a hearing. I know it's Friday afternoon.
4 It's almost 5:00 o'clock. Sorry, Miami traffic. Friday afternoon 5 is rough. I wasn't trying to punish anybody, I've just had 6 hearings all day, and so this is the space I had for you all.

7 All right. Thank you very much.

8 MR. BRETTLER: Thank you, Your Honor.

9 THE COURT: We're in recess.

10 MS. SCHLUMP: Thank you, Your Honor.

11 MR. GARCIA PEREZ: Thank you, Your Honor.
